

ALEXANDRIA, VA.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1873.

Political.

In consequence of a change of appointments, R. T. Daniel, esq., Conservative candidate for Attorney General, will not be able to speak here on Thursday night, as heretofore annouced, but will address the people of Alexandria at a later day in the canvass.

The Washington Chronicle having denied that Col. Mosby wrote a letter to the Postmaster General requesting him to revoke all appointments made at his request, if, in his opinion the patronage thus bestowed placed him under any obligations to support Hughes, the Warrenton Index says: "Now all we have to say about the matter is this: that we read the letter ourselves and know it was mailed to Mr. Creswell, and as ten days have elapsed and it has not been returned it must have reached him. We also know that Col. Mosby has written a similar letter to Gen. Grant that if these appointments were made with expectation even that he would support Hughes that he desired their revocation. He further told the President that he thought these appointments were made in consideration of his support of President Grant in the last Presidential can-

The Warrenton Index is informed that Mr. Platt and Maj. R. H. Carter have gone to New York for the purpose of raising money to carry on the campaign in Virginia. The Index adds "Let them bring all the money they can get hold of to Virginia, and it will not affect the result of the election. There isn't money enough in Wall street to buy up the people of Virginia. All their work will be 'love's labor lost.' "

According to the Fairfax News, Judge Cockerille, in the course of his remarks at Fairfax Court House, on Monday last, upon receiving the nomination of the Conservative Convention for the House of Delegates, said that if he should be returned to a seat in the next Legislature, he should vote for a convention to re- shot or poisoned. vise the Constitution, which, he thought, unsuited in many respects to our present wants and condition.

Platt's letter in reference to Col. Mosby's Federal appointees says: "Our information in reference to Platt's demand for the dismissal of Col. Mosby's appointees was derived from a gentleman just from Washington, who received his information from a person connected with his strength allow. the Postoffice Department."

Ex-Gov. Smith, who has just returned to his home in Fauquier, brings back words of good cheer from Southwest Virginia, where he has been addressing the people in behalf of the Conservative State ticket.

It is announced that Samuel J. Morrow has been appointed local route agent at Gordonsville, Va., on the recommendation of Col. R. W. Hughes.

THE FINANCIAL CRISIS. - The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says :-"The opinion is generally adhered to that at last the worst is over. The country banks are yet, however, to be heard from. It does not seem that so far as the large cities are concerned that any business interests have been dam aged by the recent collapses. But in many of the smaller towns it is conjectured that the banking houses have more or less of their funds locked up in the hands of Jay Cooke & Co., and the other large houses which have fallen. If those are not able to sustain the losses entailed upon them, the consequences of the great fail ures, which have taken place will be the most disastrous and far reaching. No one here now looks for any speedy resumption of Jay Cooke & Co., and the creditors generally are becoming quite uneasy and are beginning to fear that, in the language of the late Fisk, their money has 'gone where the woodbine twineth.'"

THE PRESIDENT'S DETERMINATION. - A d's patch from New York to the Washington Republican says that at the interview had on Saturday with the merchants and bankers in Wall street, "Commodore Vanderbilt made the proposition to President Grant to authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to place $30,000,000 of legal reserve in the banks of New York and on that condition he (Com. Vanderbilt) would add $10,000,000. President Grant replied that he anxiously desired to do all in his power to relieve the present financial embarrassment and to prevent impending disaster. He must, however, conform to the Constitution. Mr. Op dyke and others represented to President Grant and Secretary Richardson the necessity for immediate action, but they were informed that the Constitution could not be violated."

THE DRY GOODS TRADE. - As showing how little the panic has to do with the legitimate trade, the New York Bulletin, of Saturday, has the following, which is applicable also to other troubles:-"A careful canvass of the dry goods trade enables us to place before our readers the views of many of the more prominent houses upon the effects likely to result from the financial crash in Wall street. On no former occasion have we seen such unanimity in the trade as regards the prospective future, and the leading merchants express the most perfect confidence in the perfectly sound condition of the business throughout the country. The Wall street papic occurred at a fortunate time for the importers and manufacturers' | guilt. agents, as the great bulk of their heavy sales have already been accomplished, and the jobbing trade, now in operation is not likely to be materially affected by the Wall street issues."

The subject of the deficiency of bread stuffs in Europe, this year, attracts much attention. The Baltimore American says: - "For the current year, beginning Sept., 1873, the deficiency of England is stated, upon the most trustworthy estimates, to be 2,500,000 bushels less than last year, a reduction so slight as to occasion a demand almost fully as great as that of last year, with the difference that this year England will have to compete with the Continent. The deficiency in France is estimated at 60,000,000 bushels; the requirements of other European nations are estimated at about 50,-000,000 bushels, making a total European demand of 202,500,000 bushels, or a little more than fifty million bushels less than the total wheat crop of the United States for the year ending August 30, 1873. Prussia and the United States will be the two countries called upon to supply this enormous deficiency, and to do this will tax to their utmost capacity the transportation facilities of the commercial

"I advance upon this subject now without the least embarrassment on the question of Federal power to construct this work. In the first place it comes within the exception of works, national and necessary, to execute admitted powers of peace and of war; and in the second place I regard the question of internal improvements by the Federal Government as settled by time, by repetition of the exercise of the power, and by the late internal war; and in the third place, it is too vital to Virginia for her longer to hesitate, while other States, North and South, are, and have been profiting by the exercise of the power.'

A Washington dispatch says: "A letter received from Wisconsin says that the members of the State Legislature are very generally signing a paper calling on Senator Carpenter to resign his seat in the Senate, alleging that he no longer represents the Republican party of Wisconsin, either practically or morally. Senators who have recently been in this city speak confidentially about the Republican senatorial caucus in December, saying that Senator Anthony, of Rhode Island, will be elected president of the Senate pro tem, in place of Carpenter.

Dispatches from Duodee, Scotland, bring us the emphatic denial of Dr. Bessel and Emil Schumann, the chief engineer of the Polaris, concerning the rumors of foul play in the death of Capt. Hall. The cable reports the death of the eminent Freuch surgeon and physician Auguste Nelaton. Nelaton had acquired a world-wide celebrity for skill in his profession. At one time he per formed the operation of lithotomy upon the Emperor. It was in consideration of his services, and his professional eminence, that he was created a Senator by an Imperial decree, dated August 14, 1868.

The papers out in California, Republican and Democratic alike, are calling loudly upon Senetor A. A. Sargent to resign. His exertions for the Central Pacific and Credit Mobilier railroad crowd in the recent canvass have earned him a fresh access of unpopularity—and he was quite unpopular before, for his constituents burnt him in effigy soon after his election.

MONUMENTS ERECTED. - The monument to the Confederate dead has been completed, and will be formally delivered by the contractors, Messrs. Wilson and Sands, of Richmond Va., to the Ladies of the Fauquier Memorial Association at the Cemetery to-day (Saturday) at 10 o'cleck a. m. Thomas Semm s of La.. formerly Confederate States Senator, will deliver an address on the occasion. The monument is a bandsome structure, werthy as a menorial of the soldiers whose heroism it will perpetuate; and as a triumph of art, an honor to the taste and skill of the builders. The base of the monument is from Virginia quarries. The first base is seven feet square, the second five feet square. The mouldings, die, shaft, and figure of Remembrance are cut from fine white Italian marble. The die is three feet three inches square, and four feet in heighth. On its east panel is chiscled, "Confederate Dead Six Hundred. Virginia's Daughters to Virginia's Defenders." On the south panel, "God will judge the right." On the West panel, "Go tell the Southrons that we lie here for the rights of their States. They never fail who die in a great cause." On its North panel "Here on the soil of Virginia they sleep as sleeps the hero on his unsurrendered shield. Surmounting the die is a shaft two and a half feet square at its base and thirteen feet high. On its Eastern face is carved in bas relief emblems of the artillery, cavalry and infantry service, above which floats the flag of the Confederacy. Remembrance, a beautiful female fig ure of life size, holding in her left hand a book on whose unfolded pages fall the first rays of the rising sun and in her right hand a wreath of immorte is, completes the structure, the eptire height of which is about thirty feet.

Messrs. Wilson & Sands have also erected in our cemetery a chaste and unpretending monu. ment to the memory of John Quincy Marr, Captain of the Warrenton Riflemen, who was born March 27th 1825 and fell on the 1st day of June 1861 at Fairfax ('. H. The inscription upon the modest shaft above his honored dust tells the story of his death: "Upon the threshold of his State this Virginian met the invaders and was the first to fall for the rights of the South." - Warrenton Index.

THE STAMP BUSINESS. - We learn that Mr. Special Agent Pattie has white-washed the stamp stealing at Lynchburg, although we know the fact that he was furnished with the names of witnesses who could prove the guilt of Wilson, the Lynchburg Postmaster. If Mr. Cresswell will send an agent to the Index office we bind ourselves to furnished the most incontrovertible proof of his guilt. We do not intend to let this matter rest for it is pregnant with warning to the Virginia people. The last Congress abolished the franking privilege and Government officials are now furnished with official stamps to be used only on official business. - Warrenton Indec.

BANKRUPTS. - The question of what constitutes a baukrupt has just been settled by Judge Drummond, of the United States Circuit Court of Illinois. In a case just concluded, Judge Drummond decided that any man who without any legal reason, refuses payment on his paper for two weeks, may be, under the law, adjudgsd a bankrupt. He must satisfy the court that he is justified in withholding payment. His mere caprice or unwillingness to pay will not prevent his being adjudged insolvent if the refusal to honor his promise to redeem extends the bank presidents and the adoption of a reso lution to use certificates representing seventyfive per cent of securities held by any bank in its settlements; the peremptory closing of the stock exchange, and the suspension of additional banking institutions and houses. There was also the offer by the government to buy bonds to the amount of $10,000,000, which elicited bids for only $2,672,650, thus showing the inutility of such a measure to materially relieve the money market. There was made known also a defalcation in the Union Trust Company, the defaulter being C. Carlton, son of the Rev. Dr. Carlton of the Methodist Book Concern, and secretary of the Union Trust Company, which caused great surprise. He had been secretary of the Union Trust Company since 1860, and the concern has grown to be an immense financial institution under his management. The additional suspensions are as fol lows: The Union Trust Company, the Bank of the Commonwealth, the National Trust Company, the Mechanics' Banking Association, C. G. White & Co., E. C. THE COMING HOG CROP .- We take the folowing from the Drovers' Journal, of Chicago. It possesses value as a statistical statement:

"The entire number of hogs produced in the West for the last packing season did not fall far short of 6.00 1,000, if we add the large number of Western hogs that there were packed in Canada and our Eastern cities to the number that was macked at the various packing points in the West, and we now expect to see the number for the coming season reach fully 6,000,000, and we expect to see them made fat enough to weigh as heavy as any equal number of hogs have ever weighed heretofore. We expect to see this result because it will be the only course that the farmers can take for getting rid of a goodly part of their corn supply at something like living prices; and while we do not expect to see at over supply of pork, we do not believe it will be prudent or safe for those engaged in raising hogs to expect any better prices than were realized during the last packing season; say 365 to 426 pounds as the extreme range of prices at Chicago. With all the world at peace, every sound perator knows that it would never do to pack such a number of hogs as we now-a-days have to deal with, at prices that would give material check to the freest possible consumption of product both at home and abroad."

NOTICE TO GAS CONSUMERS. Bil s for the quarter ending September 15th are now ready for delivery.

All bills paid on or before October 1st will be at the rate of $3 per thousand; on all bills paid after October 1st ten per cent will be added. The flow of gas will be stopped from the premses of all consumers who have not paid up by In giving the above notice, I desire to append the following remarks: A custom has obtained in the collection of gas bills, which has almost become law, of granting indulgence to consumers, by which much money has been lost to the Works, and when attempt is made to collect af er the amount has accumlated, unpleasant feelings have been engendered, rendering my posttion anything but pleasant Gas bills are accruing quarterly and monthlyfor there are a number of monthly consumersand any one can see at a glance the difficultie that r ust arise of allowing two or three qua-ters' or months' consumpt on before payment is enforced. When I cut off the gas from a consumer, the first question asked by him is." there are not others who are in arrears? and if there are, why I do not close them of also. Although consumers know that it is the law, and that the Gas Light Committee call up in it to enforce it, yet when it is enforced 1 am the only one who is found fault with. In addition to all this, the law makes it imperation to all this, the law makes it imperative upon me to cut the gas off of all who may be in arrears, and I render myself liable to censure, to say the least, for not discharging my duty. I desire, therefore, to say to all who not pay by the 10th of October, according to the above notice, that the flow of gas will be stopped, without respect to persons. And I hope no friend of mine will ask further induigence, as I cannot and most respectfully say I will not grant it. A law and rule which bears alike upon all certainty ought to give offence to none. In distributing the bills, I will be glad to receive the money of ary who may be prepared to pay that it will be greened to pay. but it will be out of my power to call the second time, so consumers will either come or send to
